Traitor and An Outlaw

Zurich, Switzerland, Murch $1.—A correspondent of the "Neue Zuericher Zeitung writes from Athems." The former powerful Greek Dremier Venizelos has solemnly been declared an outlaw. With ceremonies that have not been seen here since the Byzantine empire went out of extence the Metropolitan of the Greek church recently, in the presence of the entire clerky and tens of thousands of citizens, publicly cursed the ex-premier on the Mars Field as an enemy of his country and the king.

"The ceremony lasted over two hours. All of the many thousands of men and women who took part carried stone which they threw into a hole dug for this purpose, shouting: Cursed forever be the traiter who discrepted his country."

New Antiseptio Is Medical Triumph -:||:- -:||:- -:||:- -:||:-

Kills Germs But Harmless To Tissue ONDON, Eng. March 31.—What medical men regard as one of the most important discoveries in the history of medicine has just been announced here. It is an antiseptic destructive of bacteria while quite harmless to the tissues

The new antiseptic has been named flavine and is closely related in origin to substances used in dyeing leather brown.

The harmful effects of old antisoptics on the tissues forced the development of neeptic surgery, in which everything intended to be brought into contact with the living body is first rendered germ free by boiling or by some antiseptic. The use of the new antiseptic will render surgery much simpler and enter, it is said Russian Revolution Recalled From Exile

German Papers and Prus sian Deputy Make Bitter Attacks on U. S.

THINK AMERICANS

Bentire Germany, March St.—The entire German press resents the stand taken by the United States against the unrestricted submarine war with great bitterness and the government no longer makes any effort to check the anti-American tirades of the newspapers and politicians.

Violent Attacks in Papers. Even the most violent attacks on the American government, which formerly would have promptly been suppressed, are now freely printed with the permission of the censor, and the nation is led to consider the entrance | nothing to be desired. of the great American republic into the war as an unavoidable development of the ever growing world conflict.

One of the most bitter attacks on the linked States was made by the Prussian deputy baron von Malkahn in a speech before a moeting of the Pomeranian conservatives at Stralsund. The baron called the United States the "patron saint of England," and charged the government at Washington with comprising for the destruction of Germany to save and strengthen British world dominion.

Calle U. S. England's Protector.

"The war is no louger a struggle between continental Europe and the Eritish-American economic trust. This forces us to use all of our weapons against England, without regard for her American protector.

"Great Britain must be brought to her American protector.

"The Kness, and we know that this can he done. Between how and the ext harvest the allies will have to import they want the linked States and 4,90,000 tons of fodder. If they cannot do this they will be lost.

Thinks U. S. Hitter Enemy.

"There is bot the slightest doubt that the United States desires our destruction as much as Great Britain does. But if America really declares war against us then we'll be able to end the war in six months, no matter what the United States may do."
